Sexual Abuse: Issues to be Considered for Men and HIV Prevention

The Unit for Social Behaviour Studies in HIV/AIDS and Health at the University of South Africa, the Department of Sociology in collaboration with the United States Embassy and AIDS and Rights Alliance for Southern Africa (ARASA), is hosting a seminar on 'Sexual Abuse: Issues to be Considered for Men and HIV Prevention' on 12 February 2010 in Pretoria.

Main Speaker:

Ted Bunch - Educator, Activist and Lecturer Ted Bunch, Co-founder of 'A Call to Men: The National Association of Men and Women Committed to Ending Violence Against Women'. Bunch is recognised both nationally and internationally for his expertise in organising and educating men in the effort to end violence against women. He is dedicated to strengthening community accountability to end all forms of violence against women.

He is formerly the senior director and co-creator of 'Safe Horizon's Domestic Violence Accountability Programme' which is the largest programme for domestic violence offenders in America. He is a recognised trainer, lecturer and consultant on male accountability. A committed ally for more than a dozen years, Bunch has gained leadership status in the domestic violence, rape and sexual assault prevention communities across the country.
